Sensible Advice to Young Men-

The following article, from the Cayuga Chief, contains so many valuable suggestions, and such pithy advice, to our young men, that we publish it, and hope that every person, both Mary Abelhart, who lived at Dormann's old and young-male and female-will care- Tavern, Cumminsville. fully read it, and then cut it to read the next time they are afflicted and tormented with the blues. Every word of it is true, and by remembering its injunctions you will be greatly benefited.

That never will do, young man! No use to stand on the sidewalk and whine about hard luck, and say that every thing goes against you. You are not of half the consequence that your talk would lead us to believe. The world hasn't declared war against you. You are like all the rest of us-a mere speck upon the earth's surface. Were you this moment to go down in the living tide, but a bubble would linger for a moment upon the surface, and even that would vanish unnoticed. The heart is full of hope and ambition, but is not missed when it ceases to beat. One such as you would not leave a ripple.

You are a coward-a coward-in battle. There is no fight in you. You have surrendered without a struggle, and now whine because you are beaten! You are not yet worthy of a triumph, for you have not yet earned it. In garret, hut, and dripping cellar are ten thousand heroes who would put you to shame. They must toil or starve. The strife is a desperate one with them, for they wrestle with want, while ragged and despairing ones watch at the lone hearth the fearful contest. Strong men look death in the eye when their sinews are strung by the wail of hungry childhood. Shame on you! In the full vigor of health and manhood, no mouth but your own to fill, and no back but your own to cover, and yet crouching under the first scourgings of adverse fortune. You know nothing of the storm, for you have seen but the summer. One cloud has frightened you, and you think you are hardly dealt by. You will be lucky, if you find no darker shadows across your path. Stand up, young sir, pull your hands from your pockets, throw off your coat and take fortune by the throat. You may be thrown again and again, but hang on. Put away the nonsense that the world is all against you. 'Tria't so. Your destiny is in your own strong arm! with unbending will, and honor and truth for your guide, the day is your own.

No capital, eh? You have a capital. God has given you perfect health. That is an immense capital to start on. You have youth and strength-all invulnerable. Add a will to do. put your sinews in motion, and you will win. A man in full health and strength should never whine or dispair because fortune does not pour a stream of golden eagles into his pockets. If you have no money, work and get it. Industry, economy and integrity, will do wonders. From such beginnings fortunes have been reared. They can be again. Will you try it? Or will you wait for the stream to run by, so that you can walk dry shod into the El Dorado of wealth? Or will you meet the waves defiantly, and be the architect of your own fortune?

Tay-it is glorious to conquer in the strife.

JUDGMENT OF SIROMS AGAINST THE MCMERES ESTATE.—Farmers College vo. The Executors of Chas. McMicken. In Room No. 1 of the Superior Court, McMicken. In Room No. 1 of the Superior Court, McMicken. In Room No. 1 of the Superior Court, McMicken. In Room No. 1 of the Superior Court, McMicken. In Room No. 1 of the Superior Court, Judge Storer gave an opinion in this case. The Plaintiffs, an theorpocated insification by a law of Ohio, seek to recover. Shidon, an amount subscribed by the late Chas. McMicken to endow certain Processors in the College, and extend the knowledge of agriculture, both scientific and practical. In 1825 Mr. McMicken died without having paid any portion of the fund he had subscription, and since his decease this action was brought. The Defendants for the purcess of obtaining a indichal construction of all the subscription was made, but denying, first,—that any demand during McMicken's life of the sum now claimed to be due, and severally, that there was no mention of the anheet in his will. They allege, therefore, first, that the paper subscribed by the besiator did not create any legal obligation on his part; and secondly, that the conditions contained in the subscription were not faifilled by the Plaintiff according to its terms.

So har as any or all of the objections were concerned, the Court recidering a decree for the amount of the subscription; nor there be any double for the sufficiency of the consideration. In former times there was some healtation on the part of Courts in allowing subscriptions of this nature to be recovered. A President of the United States was a defendant in one suit in Massachusetts, where the volidity of such subscriptions was successfully disputed and the right of such cases as this; and it is now hold that wherever an existing corporation where termises a final for the purpose of sustaining a professorship almond of the States where the Court have fasten an enlightened view of the instite and the right of such cases as this; and it is now hold tha

SHOP-LITTER ARRESTED .- The firm of Hopkins & Cole, dry goods dealers, on the corner of Fifth and Vine streets, have lately lost many and valuable goods, through the agency of shop-lifters. She told them she procured it from a German girl named

Information was lodged at the office of the Chief of Police, and officers Worley, Hopkins and Wilson proceeded to Cumminsville and took the girl in custody. She at first denied all knowledge of the stolen goods, but subsequently confessed to having the silk in her possession, and delivered it up. No other goods belonging to Cole & Hopkins were found with her, but her trunk, filled with a general assortment of goods, supposed to have been stolen from other places, was brought to the city. A quarrel between Miss Abelhart and the girl was the occasion of the latter giving informa-

THE DYING NEVER WEEF,- It is a striking fact, the dying never weep! The circle of sobbing, agonized hearts around, produces not one tear. Is it that he is insensible and stiff already in the chill of dissolution? That can not be — for he asks for his father's hand as if to gain strength in the morta struggle, and leans on the breast of mother brother or sister, with still conscious affec-tion; and just before expiring at eve, after ton; and just before expiring at eve, after a long day's conversation with the Angel of Summons, he says to his oldest brother—the last andible good-night of earth—"Kiss me, kiss me!" It must be because the dying have reached a point too deep for earthly crying and weeping. They are face to face with higher and holier beings, with the Father in Heaven, and the angel throng, led on by the Son himself; and what are the griefs of a mourning tears of a dying face. griafs of a mourning, tears of a dying fare-well—be it that they are shed by the dearest on earth - in that vision bright of immortal life and everlasting reunion?

FREE NEGROES IN VIRGINIA .-- A writer in the Richmond Dispatch takes a more sensible view than usually prevalls in that region on the question of labor. This writer says that there is a scarcity of labor in Richmond, that the productive interests are suffering from this deficiercy, and that white labor, al-though the best, cheapest, and most profita-ble, is not to be obtained. He advises, therefore, that the laws be so modified as to invite to the city the free negroes, who are now re-$1,75, in default of payment was sent to jail. pelled, and to employ them.

COMMUNICATIONS.

For the Daily Press, !

A Card. In the issue of the Daily Press, of this city of the 9th inst., an article is found headed, "MUSDRAED BY SPIRITUALISTS," in which it is stated that an old and eminent lawyer of this city found his death through "a communication from the Spirit world prescribing the proper course of treatment for his recovery."

Although we regard this as an invasion of sanctuary which all regard as sacred, the smitten private circle, yet that no improper im pression may go abroad among the friends of the beloved deceased, we state that some three or four months since William R. Morris, Esq., the husband and father of the undersigned. the husband and father of the undersigned, was stricken with paralaysis; that under the skillful treatment of Doctor Wright, an eminent and old alopathic physician of Springfield township, and the medical advisor of the family for some lifteen or twenty years, he partially rallied from his first attack which has deprived him of the use of his right side and also of speech; that he had subsequent shocks, and when his danger became imminent additional medical skill was summoned in the person of Doctor Tilden, of Sandusky, than whom there is not in the State perhaps one of more learning and distinction. We say meet emphatically that this attack is most uncalled for—inasmuch as its allegations are unsupported for—inasmuch as its allegations are unsupported by a single fact, everything relating to the illness and death of the lamented deceased having been, including his medical treatment, governed by the most approved skill and science.

W. R. MORRIS, JR., SARAH L. MORRIS. The authors of the above card assume that our article of the 9th inst, bad reference to the demise of Wm. R. Morris, Esq., and take us to task for invading the privacy of the home sanctuary. We have only to reply that, in the case to which we alluded, we have the best or assurances that other treatment than that recommended by Dr. W., the physician in at tendance, was most urgently objected to by that gentleman, and that, when he found the friends of the invalid persisted in rejecting his advice, he refused to call on the patient profes sionally, or in any other manner than as a friend. We have said nothing derogatory to the professional skill of Dr. Tilden, nor do we know him in the case.

Since our article of the 9th just, we have been called upon by a gentleman, a friend of the afflicted family, and one who had, or seemed to have, much faith in the new treatment to which the patient was subjected. Upon asking him what that treatment was, he replied that it was simply the laying upon . hands. If this be the spiritual specific for all the ills that flesh is heir to, it is as well the world should know it, and Save their doctors'

[COMMUNICATED.]

Ms. Epiron: I perceive by your issue of the date that you have, as well as many others, been misled relative to the case of Alexander Pfiferman, in which a nolle was recently entered in the Police Court. The charge, to follow the language of the approach of the summer language of the summons, was "giving a theatrical exhibition, on Sunday, April 24th. 1850, without license," and was made in the name of the City of Cincinnati, and the offense therefore could only be punished under the ordinances of said city.

Although I am well aware that a contrary impression has gone forth, still there is not single ordinance now in force that provides nor in any manner relates to punishing the giving of any sort of an exhibition on Sunday in contra-distinction to any other day of the week; and any one doubting this assertion can easily convince himself of its truth by refer ing to the general ordinance of 1857.

As it was no error of mine that the legisla tion of the city has been faulty in this matter. and as Pfiferman produced a general license to give theatrical exhibitions, without designa-ting upon what days of the week they should be so given, I was, from lack of law to sustain the charge, compelled to order its dismissal.

But it may not be improper for me to say, is this connection, that there is a sufficiency of law, as far as the State is concerned, to punish this class of offenses; and had the proper affi-dayit been made under the State law, without which the case could not proceed, Pfiferman could easily have been convicted. The making of an affidavit, however, is purely a voluntary act upon the part of the affiant, over which neither the Court nor the Prosecutor has any discretion or control; and as the prosecuting witness in this case did not feel disposed to pursue that course when it was suggested t im, no discretion was left me but to enter

Being an Israelite myself, it can not be claimed that religious prejudices warped my judgment, either pro or con, in the matter. EDGAR M. JOHNSON, Prosecuting Attorney Police Court. Ciry Buildings, May 14, 1859.

In the above card, Mr. Johnson defends himelf from purely imaginary charges. But as he has introduced the subject, it strikes us very forcibly that the Prosecuting Attorney has the full power to elect in what manner a case cen be brought before the Court, and if there is any danger of the case failing through an improper affidavit, it is not only his privilege, but his duty, to see that the affidavit is properly made.

A New York paper says all the fashionable ladies and flaneurs attended a recent matinee at the Academy, and "the display of toilettes was delicious to all but husband's eyes."

In Chicago, Ill., the main audience-room of the First Fresbyterian Church, on the corner of Washington and Clark streets, has been leased for a bilward-room, for which purpose it will be immediately fitted up. UNEXPROTED DEATH .- We were pained to learn that the lady of the Hon. Pierre Soule died at a late hour last night, at his residence on Rampart street. Beloved, widely known, and, like Spenser's ideal, "making a sunahine in a shady place," her loss will be deeply felt by all who knew her.— New Orleans True Delia,

A SEVERE REBUKE.—It is told of a distin-guished clergyman in New York that a few Sundays since, seeing a poor woman tottering up one of the aisles of his church, waiting in vain, for one of the congregation to offer her a seat, paused in his sermon, descended from the pulpit, showed her into his own pew, and quietly returned again. The rebuke was a severe one, and must have been felt.

CAMELS FOR ALABAMA.—Twenty-one came is arrived at Mobile, recently, on board the steamer Fashion, from Galveston. They are natives of the Canaries, and intended for ex-periment in that section of the country. It is said that one of these camels will readily earry two bales of cotton at the rate of twentyfive miles a day, over roads that are next to impassable for wagons.

Important Testimouy.
From Hon. J. W. Chapman, Judge of First Judicial

Dr. Gro. W. Phillips, Cincinnati, Ohio:—Having used several small bottles of your "Cough Strup," personally and in my family, and having seen its offects on others, in numerous instances of severe cold and cougha, I most cheerfully recommend it as an infallible remedy in all such cases. If the Syrup were in general use, I confidently believe a large majority of the colds, accompanied by coughs, that now term nate in Consumption, would be effectually arrested. In fact, I can see no necessity for any, who can obta a this remedy, being thus afflicted.

Respectfully yours, J. W. CMAPMAN.
